“Jesus Christ, Our Grace”

Ruth 1:1-5, 4:13-17

Setting: Ruth is written near the end of the Judges period. God would send judges to redeem and rule Israel before the reign of kings. Ruth is a story about the outsider being brought in, God’s blessing on His people, God’s covenantal love through a mediator, and a kinsman redeemer giving of himself to purchase another.

Summary: The book of Ruth teaches us God's steadfast love and what it means to live in the boundary of God's grace. Through Naomi, we see Christians struggling with their daily lives; through Ruth, we see God's unbounded, measureless love.
